Congress To Consider New Military Training Program

Housewives Tell About Furnace Sales Methods

BALTIMORE (AP)—Several housewives told a Federal Trade Commission examiner Tuesday that employees of the Holland Furnace Co. of Michigan tried to get them to buy new furnaces by frightening them about the condition of their present heating plants.

The FTC opened hearings here on a complaint that Holland Furnace used "unfair and deceptive practices" to sell furnaces.

The complaint, being heard by FTC Examiner James A. Purcell, alleges these practices "unfairly diverted" trade to the Holland company from competitors and injured competition in commerce.

Mrs. Marie C. Haley said she had been approached by an employee of the Holland Furnace Co. who told her her neighbor wouldn't live through the winter if she continued to use the present heating unit she had, and that Mrs. Haley's furnace was in similar condition.

A neighbor, Mrs. Helen Smith, said she had been "scared to death" after an employee of the same firm told her she could be reported to the fire board because of the condition of her oil furnace.

Edgar R. Audet, local branch manager of Holland Furnace, admitted his office had received complaints that furnaces had been torn apart and not resembled by his men.

But Audet said he found no evidence his employees had represented themselves as inspectors of government officials to gain access to people's houses.

That is one allegation of the FTC complaint: that Holland salesmen and servicemen "falsely represented themselves as government inspectors or representatives."

Democrats Expected To OK Eisenhower Legislation In 1955

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R-Mass.) predicted today the Democratic-controlled 84th Congress will approve the "essential parts" of President Eisenhower's 1955 legislative program.

Martin, who will turn over the House speaker's gavel to Rep. Rayburn (D-Tex.) Jan. 5, said he carried from a bipartisan White House conference Tuesday the impression that "Democrats will cooperate with us on some things, but not on others."

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, slated to become the Senate's majority leader, said it was understood that administration department heads would sit down with top members of both parties on

"But I don't have any doubt that we will get the essential parts of the President's program passed," he said in an interview.

He did not say what he regarded as "essential" among the Eisenhower proposals, to be delivered to Congress in the President's State of the Union message Jan. 6.

This will be followed in mid-month by the annual budget message which an informed source said will propose spending in the fiscal year starting next July 1 of between 63 billion and 64 billion dollars.

This informant, a GOP lawmaker who sat in on the White House talks but who asked not to be named, said present indications are for a three-billion-dollar deficit in the new fiscal year.

Treasury estimates for the current fiscal year are that spending will be about 64 billion dollars and the deficit about 4 1/2 billions.

Armed Forces Reserves Will Be Strengthened

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was described today as feeling it is "absolutely essential" for Congress to enact a new military training program designed to strengthen greatly the nation's armed forces reserves.

A Republican congressional leader, who asked that his name not be used, said this topic stirred up more controversy than any other in two days of White House briefings on the President's program for the 1955 session.

Subject To Call
Several Republicans and Democrats who were at the meetings confirmed the broad outline of the training program as presented to them. Secretary of Defense Wilson is scheduled to make details public Friday.

Informants said youths of 17 and 18 would be given this option:

1. Take six months of intensive military training, then enter an active reserve program for 9 1/2 years during which they would be obliged to continue periodic training and would be subject to immediate call in an emergency; or

2. Wait for the regular draft and two years of active service after turning 19. Following discharge from active service, the draftee would be subject to six years of reserve duty.

Pay Boost Indicated
The new plan — regarded as a watered-down version of previous universal military training (UMT) proposals — appears to be quite similar to recommendations made a year ago by the President's National Security Training Commission.

However, the commission had proposed drawing lots to determine which youths would take six months of training and would draw two years of service.

The GOP leader who reported Eisenhower's emphatic backing for the new training plan noted that it would give youths a chance to get the six-month training period out of the way between high school and college.

He said the Defense Department also plans to recommend a pay boost of about 6 per cent for military personnel.

The present draft law is due to expire next June 30.

Pentagon sources said too that while short-term trainees would escape the draft under normal circumstances, they would face several drawbacks. They would be paid only $30 a month, much less than draftees. And they would not be eligible for veterans benefits.

Reds Rob Families
NEW YORK (AP)—A Polish tanker captain who gained asylum in the free world after his ship was seized by the National Chinese off Formosa said Tuesday Red authorities in Poland had robbed and evicted his wife and two daughters from their home.

Capt. Leonard Wasowski, 41, said similar reprisals were taken against families of the 11 crewmen who fled with him.

Brooklyn Boys Given Life For Thrill Slaying

NEW YORK (AP)—Two Brooklyn youths were convicted of first-degree murder Tuesday in the thrill slaying of a 34-year-old factory hand.

An all-male Kings County jury recommended that Jack Koslow, 18, and Melvin Mittman, 17, spend the rest of their lives in jail.

They were found guilty of torturing Willard Menter in a Brooklyn park last Aug. 17. The torture resulted in Menter's drowning in the East River.

Originally four youths had been indicted. One of them, Robert Trachtenberg, 15, previously was granted a separate trial and testified for the prosecution. A first-degree murder charge against Jerome Lieberman, 17, was dismissed last week. He still faces a manslaughter charge.

Koslow was depicted by the prosecution as leader of the gang which roamed Brooklyn parks at night, beating and torturing innocent victims "for thrills."

Attorneys for Koslow and Mittman argued that Menter's death was not murder but resulted from a mischievous prank. They said they would appeal the verdict.

Husband Unmoved By Scalp Of Wife At Detroit Trial

DETROIT (AP)—A Detroit area man on trial for the murder of his wife last August showed no emotion Tuesday when the scalp of the dead woman was brought into court for identification.

The scalp was severed from the body of Mrs. Verley Morse, 47, when it was found in a swamp near London, Ky., Aug. 22 by a farmer searching for his hogs.

Her husband, Claude, 44, is accused of strangling her near Detroit, carrying her body to Kentwood in the trunk of his car and dumping it in a roadside ditch.

The scalp was identified in Circuit Court by Lee Padgett of suburban Plymouth, who brought Mrs. Morse's disappearance to the attention of authorities.

After his wife's disappearance, Morse married a 15-year-old cousin of his wife, Eudena Foster. She since has returned to her parents home in LaFollette, Tenn.

Adenauer Faces Tough Fight In Debate On Rearmament Treaty

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer opened debate today in his Parliament's lower house on ratification of the Paris treaties to rearm West Germany.

Launching the toughest fight of his political life, the 78-year-old leader told the Bundestag rearmament would make successful negotiations for German unification possible.

To Socialist accusations that his government is lagging in promoting German reunification, the Chancellor said the agreements with the West offered the whole of Germany the opportunity to win by peaceful means an honorable place in the community of free nations.

The Bundestag's vote after the two-day debate will be only the first of three the lower house must hold on the treaties. But the initial poll was awaited as a telling test of strength for Adenauer and his policy to arm 500,000 West Germans within the North Atlantic Alliance.

The decisive second and third readings of the treaties will be held in late January. Then the Bundesrat, the upper house, must also approve them.

Despite outspoken opposition from the Socialists and from many supporters of his own four-party government coalition, Adenauer has expressed complete confidence that West German ratification will be completed in January and that the 14 NATO nations will give their final assent by the end of February.

Before Adenauer spoke, the Bundestag defeated two Socialist motions to delay ratification. One demanded another attempt be made to reunite divided Germany before rearmament. The other called for removal from the debate agenda of the controversial pact with France to put the rich, disputed Saar Valley under international political control.

President To Ask Postponement Of April 1 Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he will ask the new Congress to postpone the scheduled April 1 cuts—estimated at three billion dollars—on corporation and excise taxes.

The President told his news conference the budget deficit makes it necessary to him to make such a request.

He said that when you have the government going into the red federal income must be kept up.

Under present law corporation tax rates are scheduled to go down from 52 per cent to 47 per cent on April 1.

That would mean an estimated loss of about two billion dollars in revenue.

Revenue Shrinks
Excise taxes on liquor, tobacco, automobiles and some other items are slated to return to pre-Korean war levels on April 1. That would cause an estimated loss of one billion dollars in revenue.

The President also dealt with these other matters:
Bipartisan cooperation — Eisenhower expressed confidence he will have very real cooperation from the Democrats as well as the Republicans on foreign policy, national defense and mutual security matters.

The President said that by and large he would expect maximum cooperation from Republicans on other matters.

National defense — Eisenhower indicated, but did not say so specifically, that the administration might be thinking about a further cut in the strength of the armed forces.

Continental Defense First
He was asked to comment on a report that army strength will be reduced by an additional 100,000 men, and that the 1st Marine Division will be withdrawn from Korea.

The President replied any full exposition would take a good deal of time. He went on to say, however, that development of the long range bomber and atomic weapons had made it necessary for the United States to concentrate first on continental defense, and secondly on preventing strategic areas of Western Europe from falling to an enemy attack.

He said that in doing those two things, the nation can cut back on its active forces so long as it has an adequate trained military reserve.

Plans to build that reserve, to be sent to the new Democratic-controlled Congress, are a far cry from universal military training, he said. But he left it to Secretary of Defense Wilson to answer questions about details at a news conference Friday.

Second term — The President drew a round of laughter in saying that he defends the right of White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty—or any other staff member—to say it would be foolhardy for Republicans to fail to nominate Eisenhower for a second term. Hagerty made that remark in a radio interview Monday night.

Labor relations — Eisenhower said the question whether to ask Congress for an increase in the 75 cent an hour minimum wage is under intensive study. He recalled he told Congress in his last economic report that the administration does favor an adjustment in the wage floor at the proper time—a time of expanding economy.

Labor Laws Studied
As to whether the "right to work" laws of various states should be repealed, the President said he has reached no irrevocable decision. He noted that labor unions are against such laws —

Teachers Given Day Off For Shopping; Parents Take Over

CARSON CITY (AP)—Twenty-two parents were "teachers for a day" at the Carson City school today.

The regular teachers will take the day off and their parent-teacher replacements will have complete charge in conducting class.

The program, believed by Supt. Martin Atkins to be the first of its kind in Michigan, aims to give the teachers a full day for Christmas shopping—and more important, it will give the parents a chance to better understand teacher's problems.

Chinese Will Be Freed By U. S. A.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States may act before Christmas to clear 35 Chinese students for return to their Communist-ruled homeland.

That would torpedo Red China's claim, made in a broadcast Monday, that the 35 are being held as hostages for 11 U. S. airmen imprisoned by Peiping as "spies."

It would also set the stage for United Nations efforts, projected for the week after Christmas, to have the fliers freed. U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld has offered to go to Peiping then to discuss the case. Peiping has yet to reply.

The State Department Tuesday ruled out any deal in which the students would be swapped for the 11 men. However, Department Press Officer Lincoln White would not say the 35 students would be refused exit permits.

A check showing screening of the cases has been completed and all that remains to be done is for the departments of State and Justice to make a joint analysis and decision.

Wreck Of Tank Cars Menaces Paris, Ill.

PARIS, ILL. (AP)—Twenty cars of two New York Central freight trains plowed off the right-of-way in this city of about 10,000 early today and a witness said, "It's a miracle the entire west end wasn't blown up."

Among the cars which left the rails were three tank cars containing naphtha, gasoline and fuel oil. Tilted or overturned and with seams leaking, they still were a menace to the community several hours later.

Fire Chief Maurice Johnson stationed equipment at the wreck scene in preparation for salvage operations.

There were no fatalities. Only four persons were slightly injured. They lived in a store-apartment building into which a string of three cars crashed, wrapping

Mead Issues Holiday Bonus

A $450,000 Christmas gift is being presented by The Mead Corporation to its employees this year. "Christmas checks will be distributed here December 20," Division Manager G. S. Douglas, announced today. "Local employees will receive more than $37,000."

"All men who entered the armed services during the year will share in the gift," Mr. Douglas said. "Their gifts will be the same as if they were still at work with us."

A Christmas greeting from Howard E. Whitaker, Mead president, goes with each check. In it, Mr. Whitaker says:

"In recognition of another successful year, the Board of Directors has provided the enclosed Christmas gift, and it is my privilege to express heartfelt Christmas greetings on behalf of Mead, as well as my own appreciation of your individual share in the progress of the company."

Each Mead employee who is serving in the armed services has also been sent a personalized portfolio of stationery." Mr. Douglas said. "We hope that this will let him know that all of his friends in the company are thinking about him and wishing that he will be back with us soon."

Growers Host At Annual Potato Boosters Banquet

Delta County potato growers were host last night at Cornell to businessmen members of the Escanaba Potato Boosters Association in the 11th annual "venison feed" served in Cornell Town Hall.

August Lundgaard, Cornell's honorary mayor, presided as toastmaster. Grey Knaus, Cornell potato growers, welcomed the guests and recalled the beginning of the Potato Booster contest and its success in encouraging growers to success.

Outstanding feature of the evening was the venison dinner itself, prepared and served by the ladies of the Cornell PTA. The venison was contributed by hunters among the county's potato growers.

Yields Going Up

Speakers at the dinner program were Russell E. Horwood, Marquette and Chatham, supervisor of Michigan State College extension service in the Upper Peninsula; and William Cargo, Marquette, MSC extension crops specialist in the Upper Peninsula.

Cargo noted the increasing number of Upper Peninsula farmers who are obtaining yields of 300 or more bushels of potatoes an acre. At one time 300 bushels per acre was considered a remarkable yield, Cargo said. Now record yields in the U. P. hit 900 to 1,000 bushels.

Horwood described the Potato Booster Contest as a story of success in potato growing, and declared that in the future there will be success in potato marketing and in farm and home development. "In this Booster Contest you have established the basis for future success," he said.

Attainment Cited

Entertainment during the evening included the humorous stories and spontaneous wit of Toastmaster Lundgaard; a generous program of songs by the Barber-choppers chorus of Escanaba; and dialect stories by Fred Johnson.

Certificates of attainment were presented to potato growers of Delta and Marquette counties who achieved yields of 500 or more bushels an acre this year. Gold stars to be attached to 500-bushel certificates won in prior years were presented to other growers.

The presentations were made by Mel Nyquist, Marquette county agricultural agent, to the growers of that county; and by J. L. Heirman, Delta County agent, to the growers of this county.

Marquette Winners

Certificate winners for 1954 in Marquette County were:

Rudolph Johnson, Skandia; Ernest Ready, Skandia; Tryte Tuominen, Republic; Phillip Osh, Marquette; Joseph DeGroot, Northland; Scoggins and Lundberg, Watson.

Those reported as winning gold stars as repeat numbers of the 500-bushel club in Marquette County were as follows:

Schire Brothers, Cornell; Rene Verbrigghe, Rock; Paul Van Damme, Cornell, Jerome DeBacker, Cornell; Ernest Hamel, Champion; Harold Bohman, Skandia; Bernard Koepf, Marquette; Otto Sarikka & Son, Rock; Swenson Brothers, Jack Stolpe and George Stankey of Republic; Roy Delongchamp, Ishpeming; and Hjalmer Erickson, Republic.

Delta County Records

Of 82 records made in the Upper Peninsula this year, 22 of the potato growers were of Delta County. Of the 22, four became members of the 500-bushel club for the first time. They were presented with certificates of attainment by County Agent Heirman.

They are as follows: Carl Vandresse of Cornell, Robert Heynesens, St. Nicholas; Valiere Van Damme, St. Nicholas and Andy Barr, Bark River.

Delta County's repeaters in the 500-bushel club and their 1954 yields are:

Frank Barron 609 bushels an acre; Octave Carignan 582; Mrs. Pat DeBacker 702; Frank Falcies 802; Clayton Ford 607; Grey Knaus 643; Matt Ledvina 730; Adolph Lippens 561; Francis Van Damme 665; George Van Damme 618; Girard Van Damme 621; John Verbrigghe 777; Harold Woodard 595; Vernon Wick 734; George Williamson 594; George Terrien 774; Joe Stefl 610; Clarence Sundquist 825.

William Cargo in his report on the 500-bushel club noted that Rene Verbrigghe of Rock has met the club record 13 times; and that Frank Falcies has the highest record — 1,083 bushels an acre in 1952.

The Potato Booster Contest encourages approved cultural practices that result in consistently higher yields.

Name Selected For Hospital

GLADSTONE — Delta Memorial Hospital was selected as the name of the future Gladstone hospital last evening by the Gladstone Hospital Authority committee as the result of a 10 day voting period during which the hospital district residents were given the opportunity to select one of six final names, nominated in the contest.

August H. Olson, 65, of 801 Michigan Ave., Gladstone, a former city commissioner and mayor, was the winner of the $25 cash award for entering the above name in the contest. Approximately 75 other persons entered the same name in the contest, but Olson's entry had the earliest postmark.

Last evening, the committee also decided to bond the treasurer, Adam Sinclair, for $10,000. They will begin printing brochures, to be used in assisting the finance for the drive, letter heads and checks, all using the name of Delta Memorial Hospital.

Board Protests Tourney Award

The Escanaba Board of Education last night adopted a resolution protesting the failure of the basketball tournament allocation committee of the Upper Peninsula Athletic Council to award the 1955 district Class B tournament to Escanaba High School in the tournament rotation order that has been in effect for a number of years.

Escanaba High School had submitted a bid for the tournament and in the normal rotation order, this would have been Escanaba's year to serve as host for the tournament. The tournament was in Gladstone last year, Stephenson the year before and Menominee in 1952.

Gladstone no longer is a Class B school but Holy Name High School, Escanaba, is a Class B school. The district Class B tournament was awarded to Holy Name High School. The regional Class D-Class E tournament also was awarded to Holy Name High School.

The resolution of protest will be forwarded to C. E. Forsythe, Lansing, state director of interscholastic athletics, and to George E. Weingartner, Rock, chairman of the Upper Peninsula Athletic Council.

In a discussion preceding the unanimous adoption of the resolution of protest, members of the Board of Education said that the host team has a definite advantage in playing the tournament on its home floor and that since this was Escanaba High School's year to serve as host in the order of rotation, the action in by-passing Escanaba High School was unfair.

Board members emphasized that Escanaba High School did not desire nor expect to be awarded a

Train Stops To Bring Santa To Ranch Twins

ALBANY, Wyo. (AP)—For months Mark and Sharon Patterson, 2-year-old twins, waved to the crew of a Union Pacific train which passed their isolated ranch home daily.

Tuesday the train halted at the ranch. Conductor Earl L. Stark, wearing red suit and whiskers, climbed down and said: "My reindeer are tired so I came by train."

He gave the twins a gaily wrapped package and then climbed aboard as the train pulled off. The package contained an electric train.

Books Closed Up On Dr. Condon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon says it is closing its books on Dr. Edward U. Condon now that the scientist has quit as research director for the Corning (N.Y.) Glass Works and has halted his attempt to gain security clearance from the Navy.

Condon, former head of the Bureau of Standards, announced through the Corning firm that he was doing so because "I do not feel there is any possibility of my securing a fair and independent judgment" in a review of his security status. His security clearance was suspended by the Navy last October. Corning Glass does classified work for the Navy.

After Condon's resignation was announced Monday, General Counsel Wilbur M. Brucker of the Defense Department said, "The matter will be closed."

Condon — once described by the House Un-American Activities Committee as one of the "weakest links" in the nation's atomic security chain—said Monday his loyalty has been "clearly and formally established" in previous investigations and that the current proceeding raised "no question on that score."

Condon's resignation was effective immediately and he left over the weekend for California, where he plans to live and work.

THE GREATEST ACHIEVEMENT IN ZENITH'S CRUSADE TO LOWER THE COST OF HEARING

Now—Zenith's finest quality in the tiny, new 3-transistor "75-X" Hearing Aid for only $75.00

It's the biggest hearing aid news in years! Zenith has combined the recent development of transistors into another important milestone in its famous "Crusade to Lower the Cost of Hearing!"

For those who are hard-of-hearing, the discovery of transistors to replace conventional vacuum tubes opened a bright new horizon of hearing-aid help. But price—and price alone—has kept many from enjoying the greater hearing-aid clarity, compactness, convenience and low operating cost offered by this modern "electronic miracle."

Now—in the completely tubeless, 3-transistor Zenith "75-X", all these advantages can be obtained for only $75! The importance of the "75-X" to America's hard of hearing is instantly evident when you compare its low price to the $250 to $300 being charged for some competitive 3-transistor hearing aids.

The quality of the "75-X" is nothing less than Zenith's finest! It is backed, in writing, by Zenith's famous 10-Day Money-Back Guarantee, One-Year Warranty and Five-Year Service Plan.

(Sorry, but orders for the new "75-X" will have to be filled in the sequence received)

ZENITH HEARING AIDS

NEVER BEFORE HAS $75 BROUGHT YOU HEARING AID FEATURES LIKE THESE:

The tiny, new 3-transistor Zenith "75-X" weighs only 2-3/5 ounces... is as powerful as some hearing aids twice its size. Fingertip tone and volume controls. Operates for just 10¢ a week on one small 10¢ dry battery (available everywhere). No "B" battery. No tubes. Super-sensitive Perma-phone offers amazing microphone clarity; resists heat and humidity. Price of the new Zenith "75-X" includes an air conduction receiver and stock earmold.

Discover for yourself the superb performance of the new Zenith "75-X". Try the aid at home, work, church, anywhere, without risking a penny... you must be completely satisfied! And here's more good news: the "75-X" can be purchased on an easy time-payment plan.

Editorials—

We Should Grab Offer To Swap U.S. Fliers For Chinese Students

THE United States government should grab the offer of the Chinese Reds to swap 11 American fliers imprisoned in China for the 35 Chinese students who are being detained in this country by the United States government.

Aside from all other factors involved, the swap of 11 Americans for 35 Chinese is a good bargain for this country. We want our fliers back and, frankly, we can get along fine without the 35 Chinese students.

True enough, the American fliers are being held in China in complete violation of the Korean truce agreement. The detention of the Americans is an international crime which we have protested and should continue to protest with the most vigor at our command.

Nevertheless, we are holding 35 Chinese students out of a total of 4,500 Chinese students who were in this country when the Korean war broke out. We refuse to let the 35 Chinese leave because they have acquired skills in this country which could be useful to the Communists.

The American fliers have skills that are needed in this country, too, but most of all they are Americans. That should be reason enough to make the swap. Three Chinese are not worth one American even if the Chinese were trained in this country.

We are dealing with a devilish group of leaders in the Chinese Red government. We don't like to be bludgeoned by such unprincipled people. The imprisonment of the American fliers by the Reds constitutes a case of international blackmail. But let's face it. Our fliers are worth a lot more to us than the Chinese students are to the Chinese Reds.

We think the swap should be made even if it involved only one American flier and 350 Chinese students. We can argue about the principles involved later. But let's get our American servicemen back first—and the sooner the better.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

Today's vocabulary test is based upon ten words—all from Latin roots—which will prove useful in your vocabulary. After each numbered word you will find a word of almost the same meaning among the three words and phrases following it. When you have all the answers, check against the correct pairings at the bottom. Here is how we score the quiz: ten correct, excellent; eight or nine, superior; six or seven, fair.

1. Tedium: (a) sacred hymn, (b) monotonous, (c) mournful soliloquy.
2. Testator: (a) administrator of tests, (b) hard-shelled animal, (c) one who leaves a will.
3. Regiment: (a) troop of soldiers, (b) systematic guide, (c) kingly dictation.
4. Servitor: (a) attendant, (b) kind of refrigerator, (c) napkin.

5. Symposium: (a) composition for large orchestra, (b) symphony hall, (c) discussion conference.
6. Saturnalia: (a) constellation of Saturn, (b) orgy, (c) Saturday night in Rome.

7. Transgressor: (a) lawbreaker, (b) device for changing electric current, (c) recording machine.
8. Viscera: (a) intense anger, (b) wild beasts of Australia, (c) internal organs.
9. Quodam: (a) number necessary to enact legislation, (b) onetime, (c) tricky question.

10. Prolix: (a) wordy, (b) speedy, (c) patented worm-gear.

ANSWERS (with pronunciations): 1b (Tee-dee-um), 2c (tess-TAY-ter), 3b (REJ-ih-men), 4a (SER-vih-tor), 5c (sim-POH-zee-um), 6b (sat-er-NAYL-yuh), 7a (trans-GRESS-er), 8c (VISS-er-uh) 9c (KWON-d'm), 10a (proh-LIKS).

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

Smith and Dale have been vaudeville partners for years. Their "Dr. Kronkwhite" sketch is a classic. Joe Smith put his arm around Dale one day and said, "Don't be angry, Charley, but I've just treated my wife to a six-thousand dollar milk coat."

"It's your money," chuckled Charley. "Why should I care if you want to blow in all that money on just one coat for your wife?"

"For one reason," said Joe thoughtfully, "she's over at your house right now showing the coat to your wife!"

Two boll weevils grew up together in the same field and went out to make their way in the world. One was a success from the word "go," but the other never could seem to get to first base. Needless to say, he became known as the lesser of two weevils.

Have you heard about the lovely lady-in-waiting in King Arthur's court who came back to the castle blushing violently and confided to Queen Guinevere, "What a knight!"

The Doctor Says ... Best Remedy, Sleep Far as Possible From Snorer

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M.D. — Written for NEA Service

Although they do not usually say so, some correspondents are evidently driven to distraction by snoring—never their own!

Q—Please say something about snoring. Is it caused by a growth of some sort?

Mrs. B.

A—Generally speaking, snoring is the result of sounds made by vibrations in the soft parts at the back of the throat. When a person sleeps the muscles in these areas may become so completely relaxed that the passage of air in and out of the lungs causes them to vibrate. However, obstruction in the nose of various causes, including enlarged adenoids, deflections of the nasal septum, polyps, and tumors may all lead to, or exaggerate, the sounds of snoring. It is said that excessive smoking, obesity and irritations of the throat may influence snoring.

If a physical cause can be discovered and corrected the snoring may depart or at least the noise from it lessened. Since many people snore only when lying on their backs, a change in position of the head may be helpful. One suggestion has been made that a strip of adhesive plaster be placed across the corners of the mouth, but it seems to me this might be a bit uncomfortable, since snoring rarely disturbs the sleeper.

Perhaps the most practical solution in most cases is for the one who is disturbed to sleep far enough away from the snorer to lessen the noise.

Q—I am 26 years old and have had asthma during the summers for several years. Two years ago, while pregnant, the entire season passed without a wheeze. Is there anything which can be taken to bring about a similar change in the summers?

Mrs. G. P.

A—This is an interesting observation. There are changes in pregnancy which affect some diseases favorably. It has long been known that patients with rheumatoid arthritis who are pregnant are likely to be much better during the course of the pregnancy. I do not know of anything, however, which can be taken by mouth or by injection which would restore the same relief from asthma sustained during your pregnancy, though the fact that you had this experience should certainly be brought to the attention of your doctor and perhaps studied further by him.

Q—Would you please explain what mastitis is. Can it get very painful? Reader.

A—This is by definition an inflammation of the milk secreting portions of the breast. There are several varieties and causes, the treatment for which varies. Some can be painful and in some there is little or no pain at all. It is wise to have the appropriate treatment regardless of the kind of mastitis involved.

Q—Would it be possible for a woman 86 years old to stand the tests and operation for removal of a tumor of the brain?

Mrs. W. W.

A—I should doubt that most brain surgeons would wish to attempt this except for the most compelling reasons.

Q—Is esophoria a form of cross-eyedness or a form of far sightedness? Bill P.

A—It is a form of cross-eyedness in which there is a tendency for the eyes to converge or look inward.

Today And Tomorrow

By WALTER LIPPMANN

In working out an economic policy for the under-developed countries, which is what the Administration is now doing, the least difficult of the questions is whether the United States can afford it. If the United States could afford to spend $80,000,000,000 in the year 1945 to fight a war, it can afford two or three billion dollars a year to help keep the peace.

The real bottleneck is not what the United States and the other capital exporting countries can afford. It is what each of the many under-developed countries can effectively use. For it would be easy enough, of course, to squander unlimited sums of money. But it is quite a different thing to find ways of investing and of lending money in ways which produce socially desirable benefits.

There are, in fact, countries which are under-developed and poor, wanting the sheepest necessities of life, and yet so effectively and corruptly governed that a large part of the money given to them never reaches the people for whom it is intended.

DIFFERENT OBJECTIVES

In forming our new policy it will be useful, I believe, to adopt as a principal criterion the capacity of each under-developed country to use efficiently investment and aid. Under this principle we would give the highest priority to, we would lend and invest the most money in, those countries which can use money the most effectively.

We should keep separate in our minds the contributions we make for humanitarian reasons and those which we make for political and strategic reasons. To pump funds into South Korea, Formosa, South Viet Nam, and similar weak and threatened countries is a wholly different kind of operation from promoting loans and investments and capital development in the stronger Latin American republics, in India, Turkey, the Philippines, and Japan.

The more sharply the two operations are distinguished, the better. For the client states, which have to be subsidized, are in fact so weakly governed that they cannot be aided except under something very like a protectorate. But all suspicion of a protectorate must be removed if the new policy is to work well among the independent nations.

There will be suspicion that the new policy is not new at all, that it is only a new version of the policy of mutual security and the arming, the fortifying, and the committing to the Western coalition of the weaker nations. The best way to deflate that suspicion is to found the new policy on the principle not of helping where the need is greatest and the weakness the most obvious, but of lending and investing where the prospects are the best.

REMOVE SUSPICIONS

The prospects are best in the countries which have reasonably strong and effective governments, and also some kind of modern industrial base and some technological experience. The practical common sense of approaching the problem in this way will do much to remove the suspicion, which our enemies will certainly do their best to spread, that we are shopping around the world for client states. By giving priority to the stronger—and therefore to the more independent governments, we can do much to show that our real object is what we say it is—namely, to promote as rapidly as possible under conditions of freedom the progressive development of the under-developed nations.

The principle I have been arguing for may be described as the key-country approach. It stands in contrast with what might be called the policy of plugging the holes in the dam of containment. The policy of the key-country approach is to build strength upon strength, to make more prosperous, more powerful and more influential, the key countries which are already on the way to power and to influence.

This is in the realm of high policy a sound conception: not to think of ourselves as engaged primarily in building, plugging, and holding a dam of small states around the periphery of the Communist world—but to think of ourselves as one among several centers of free power and influence in all the vast regions of Europe, Asia, Africa, and South America, that are not in the Communist world.

Our difficulties in southern Indo-China illustrate these points. In order to pump substantial economic help into Viet Nam, there is need of a Vietnamese government that can administer the aid. But there is not now such a government in Saigon, and only if and when one is put together, can we hope to take serious constructive measures for the improvement of the conditions of life.

Moreover, though we are quite able to give substantial material help, it is not easy for the United States, dealing directly or in concert with France, to respect the sovereign independence of Viet Nam and at the same time to do anything effective about bringing into existence a government that can govern.

A southerner lost part of a finger while landing a fish. Lots of northerners right now would give a whole arm for just one day on a lake.

Caracas, Venezuela Goes Modern, Even Including Traffic Jam

By SUMNER AHLBUM

CARACAS, Venezuela—(NEA) — A peon taking his siesta in a vacant lot or on a shady corner is part of the natural scenery in much of Latin America. But in Caracas, 1954, no peon would dare — unless he wanted to run the risk of waking up as part of a new building or in the middle of a super highway.

Construction men call Caracas the buildingest city in South America, an honor previously held by Brazil's Sao Paulo. As if to document that statement, Venezuela's President Marcos Perez Jimenez celebrated the anniversary of his second year in office this month (December) by unveiling some 400 newly-completed projects with a price tag of $450,000,000.

The works just inaugurated, as they say down here, are scattered all over Venezuela, but the showiest (and most expensive) are in the capital city of Caracas.

Until 1946, Caracas resembled an overgrown Spanish town, leisurely clustered in a valley 10 miles long and three miles wide. Today it is studded with slab-like modern buildings that give the Impression New York's UN headquarters had come south and spawned; it is criss-crossed with express highways—and plagued with U. S.-style traffic jams where the new autopistas feed into narrow old-city streets.

A newsmen's tour of some of the key projects gives a somewhat hair-raising idea of the present-day pace in Caracas—a pace that would stagger many a norteamericano, let alone the traditional manana-thinking Latin.

Paced by 32-year-old Public Works Minister Julio Bacalao Lara in his black Cadillac, a fleet of 20 or so 1955 American station wagons raced from project to project through Caracas and down the mountains to the sea. On new boulevards, the drivers cut in and out of line like hot-rods, jockeying to be up front; they slammed over curbs and through mud holes at sites still under construction, and slowed down only to wait for bulldozers to hastily clear away some insurmountable obstacle.

At times it seemed like a caravan of confusion; actually, it put the finger on the fact that Venezuela, fueled on oil riches that provide 60 per cent of its annual $700,000,000 budget, is in high gear, and nobody wants to get left behind. By pouring this oil money back into public works, these were some of the new results Perez Jimenez had to show for inauguration week.

The Polyclinic Hospital at University City in Caracas. Largest in South America, it cost $24.5 million plus another $6 million for equipment, houses 1500 beds in 11 stories of technicolor concrete (the outside decor is in shades of blue, yellow, orange, mulberry, gray and dazzling white).

Forty 15-story apartment buildings on the hillsides of Cerro Piloto, latest $24 million item in the widely-heralded low cost housing program to bring modern living to thousands of workers now living in squatters' shacks on the hills.

The Centro Bolivar towers, two

MODERN University City Hospital in Caracas — $30.5 million worth of glass, steel, concrete and equipment — symbolizes the city's modern trend.

30-story office buildings costing $40 million that straddle the new Avenida Bolivar, an expressway which divides the city and which some Caraqueños call "the 38th Parallel." No matter what they call it, however, along with new connections to the main autopistas it will be a big factor in reducing traffic congestion.

The 650-mile Pan American highway cuts driving time from Caracas to the Colombian border from 36 to 18 hours. It has just been opened to traffic, although paving will not be completed until 1955. This highway cost $66 millions; the now-famous autopista from the port of LaGuaira up the mountains to Caracas, opened a year ago, is 11 miles long, cost $70 millions.

Those are just samples. And in them, one American oilman who has been here for the last dozen years sees the highway program as the greatest contribution to Venezuela's growth. As the new roads reach into the country, paisanos who moved their goods on burros suddenly find civilization has caught up with them.

Inside Caracas itself, there are still many odd contrasts besides the clusters of hillside shanties in the shadow of skyscraper apartments. Workmen cut saplings for poles to support forms for concrete floors, rather than wait for steel shoring. And the British telephone system has collapsed under the strain of the new tempo. A German engineering firm is presently putting in a complete new system to catch up with Caracas.

Few Caraqueños care how many diamonds or how much gold there may or may not be down south in Venezuela's fabled Grand Savanna, where the Spanish conquistadors—and more recently a flier named Jimmy Angel—sought in vain for El Dorado. They are more interested in the hard money that comes from oil and iron ore, money that is paving their streets, building their city and lining their pockets.

The money is called bolivars, senior, and while other South American nations held their hands out hopefully for United States loans at the recent Rio

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — An untold sidelight story on the Senate's McCarthy-condemning bee has just leaked out. It made known earlier, it might have had some influence on events leading up to the final vote.

It concerns John G. Adams, chief counsel for the Army, who was a principal figure in the row between Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens and Senator McCarthy over the Roy Cohn-David Schine case.

On Aug. 30, John Adams went to a night ball game at the Washington Senators' Griffith Stadium. There was nothing unusual about that, except that this happened to the night before Sen. Karl E. Mundt's committee released its final report on the Army-McCarthy hearings. It was also the night before Sen. Arthur V. Watkins' special committee was to begin its hearings on the McCarthy censure resolution.

Adams was seated quietly in a box with a friend, enjoying the game, when he should join them but that ardent fan, Sen. Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado. Johnson was a member of the Watkins committee, and his right to sit on that committee was being challenged by Senator McCarthy.

Adams thought nothing of it at the time, but later he wondered what would have happened if some photographer had taken a picture of them sitting together. He has been sweating it out ever since, fearful that someone who might have seen them would try to make something out of it. Now that the final vote has been taken and the heat is off, the story has come out.

MRS. EDITH S. GREEN, newly elected Democratic congresswoman from Oregon's third district, feels sure that Independent Sen. Wayne Morse will run as a Democrat next year. Pressed for an explanation as to why she thought so, Mrs. Green laughed and said, "I guess you might call it woman's intuition."

When a Washington gal reporter who wouldn't dare reveal her own age apologetically asked Mrs. Green how old she was, the congresswoman — elect admitted without batting an eye that she was 44. "Even a woman can't run for public office and expect to keep secret any vital statistics like that," she said.

WASHINGTON GAGSTERS have figured out a new, burlesque protocol ceremony to be used for the more formal dismissal of State Department employees who are hereafter fired for having bad judgment, or being indiscreet.

The setting calls for the Secretary of State to be stationed behind his desk in his two-story office. At either side, all undersecretaries and assistant secretaries will be lined up.

The official to be fired advances front and center to face the secretary. The undersecretary for administration (Gen. Charles E. Saltzman) then steps out of line and takes away the man's Homburg hat. The administrator for security (Scott McLeod) then strips away his striped pants.

As he then stands there in his shorts, the secretary hands him his letter of dismissal. All the assistant secretaries then turn their backs on him.

As he goes out the door, in disgrace, he is supposed to drop his spats and gray gloves in a brass spittoon—loaned for the occasion by the Senate subcommittee on investigations. Curtain.

ROBERT OLIVER, vice president of a Long Island, N. Y., society that makes a hobby of collecting match-book covers, has come up with the statistic that 75 per cent of the congressional candidates who used paper match books to promote their campaigns won election.

Mr. Oliver, a radio engineer in private life, made his survey by letters to newspapermen right after the election, and got replies from 16 cities. Of the two congressmen who used match books to promote the idea that they supported President Eisenhower, one won and one lost.

A NEW COMMUNIST grounds for divorce has been revealed in a Warsaw, Poland, newspaper dispatch translated for Free Europe Committee. It is "Joining a religious sect and refusing to sign the Stockholm peace appeal."

A lower, provincial court at first refused to grant a husband's suit for divorce because he had failed to get his wife to resign from the Jehovah's Witness sect and sign the petition. The Polish supreme court reversed this decision and granted the divorce because it found the husband was a good Communist Party member and an atheist.

IT WAS SOMETHING of a mystery why colorful Roger M. Kyes suddenly left his job as undersecretary of defense at the Pentagon and went back to General Motors, from whence he had come as right-hand man to Secretary Charles E. Wilson. But it's no mystery in Detroit. "Roger is set to be president of GM some day, and he figured he had to get back or else lose his chances," says a friend.

We can now safely report that there was a surplus crops of all the vegetables that kids don't like to eat.

College Debates No FBI Concern

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—John Edgar Hoover, Federal Bureau of Investigation director, says the FBI "would never engage in any activity which might result in stifling academic freedom."

Hoover so declared in a letter to Bob Lawrence, editor of the University of New Mexico Lobo, school newspaper.

The subject of this year's national collegiate debate is whether the United States should extend diplomatic recognition to the Communist government of China. The Lobo had quoted Dr. Wayne C. Eubank, president of Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary debating fraternity, as saying college debaters had been warned they may have their names included in FBI "raw files" for upholding the question in debates.

"I can assure you that the FBI has no interest whatsoever in col-

2-Day Training Program Ends

Approximately 25 operators of sewage plants are completing a two-day training school today at the City Hall. The program is sponsored and conducted by the Michigan Department of Health.

The meeting is part of a continuing program to provide operators of sewage plants with practical information on treatment procedures, operation methods and laboratory control. Similar meetings have been conducted in the Lower Peninsula.

Problems scheduled for discussion this afternoon include filters, sludge digestion and disposal and activated sludge. At the general discussion closing the conference, the subject of certification of operators is scheduled for discussion.

which outlaw such things as union shops—and that many of the states favor the statutes as a reflection of their inalienable rights in such fields.

Secretary of Labor Mitchell has called for repeal of the "right to work" laws. Eisenhower told his news conference last week Mitchell was not necessarily expressing administration policy.

Again today the President defended what he termed Mitchell's right to express such views. He said in response to a question, that Mitchell is his chief labor adviser.

Atomic weapons—Eisenhower declined to express any opinion as to where rests the power to decide possible use of atomic weapons in defense of Western Europe.

Flying saucers—The President said a trusted friend in the Air Force has told him it is completely inaccurate that any such objects as so-called flying saucers come from another planet.

The President made the statement when a reporter told him that some European governments are investigating the possibility that flying saucers have arrived from other planets.

Fire In Restaurant North Of Milwaukee Fatal To Two Men

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Flames of undetermined origin raced through a fashionable Milwaukee suburban restaurant early today, claiming two lives. Loss was estimated at $300,000.

The fire at the Saxony, widely-known eating place in suburban Bayside on the Lake Michigan shore north of Milwaukee, was discovered by a porter about 4 a. m.

The bodies of two men, employees who occupied living quarters on the second floor, were found by firemen who brought the blaze under control some three hours after its discovery. The dead men were believed to be William Stummeier, 53, and James Payton, 46.

The wife of the restaurant owner, Mrs. Arthur Kamman, 44, jumped 15 feet from a porch roof after being awakened by the porter. She ran across the highway in below-freezing temperatures, awakened a neighbor and carried a ladder back to the Saxony. Her husband, 46, and their daughter, Susan, 7, climbed down to safety.

Women Riveters Claim Seniority; Demand Jobs

DETROIT (AP)—More than 100 former women employees Tuesday sued American Motors Corp. for a half million dollars and demanded their riveter jobs back on seniority rights.

The suit, filed in Circuit Court, charges that the company broke its contract by refusing to transfer the women to other branches of the firm when they were laid off by Hudson Motor Car Co. last Oct. 30. Hudson merged with Nash-Kelvinator to form American Motors.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market maintained a fairly steady appearance today in the early afternoon.

Prices were spread rather widely over a range of around a point lower to between one and three points higher.

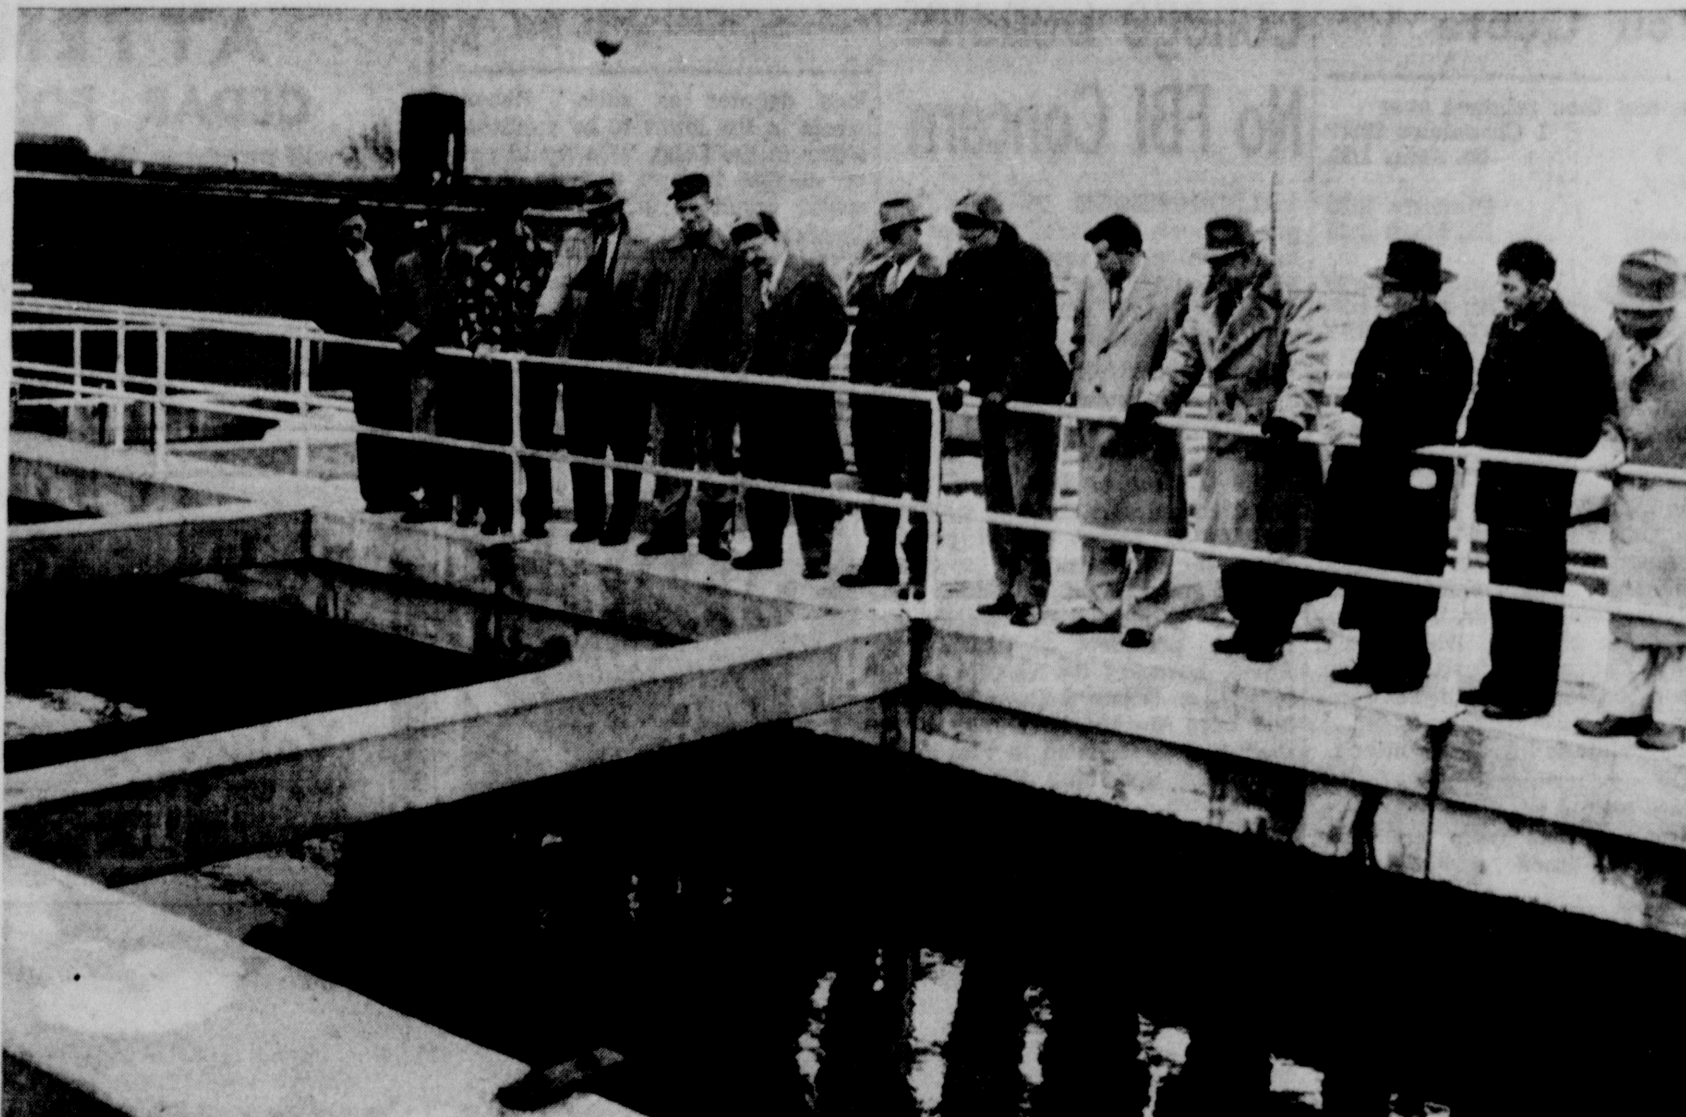

Trading was moderate. Tuesday's total was 2,650,000 shares, lowest in a month and a half.

Railroads, with the exception of Atlantic Coast Line, were higher. Coast Line, which has been unusually strong in the past two days, was down today.

Missouri Pacific preferred was strong along with Western Union and Texas Pacific Land Trust.

Also higher were Bethlehem Steel, Goodyear, Boeing, Anaconda, Copper, Westinghouse Electric, American Tobacco, New York Central, Standard Oil (N.J.), and Amerasia Petroleum.

U. S. government bonds moved narrowly.

3 Bidders On Wells Property

Three bids for the purchase of a 59-acre industrial site and buildings at Wells, were opened at the Chicago office of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. RFC today.

Until 1943 the site was occupied by the Delta Chemical & Iron Co. The firm operated a wood chemical plant and one of the last charcoal iron furnaces in the U. S.

The bids were not made public.

Gilmore Of Detroit Appointed Deputy By Attorney General

LANSING (AP)—Att. Gen.-elect Thomas M. Cavanagh today appointed Horace W. Gilmore of Detroit as his deputy attorney general.

Gilmore, 36, directed the field operation of the Democratic party during the 1954 election campaign. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan law school.

Gilmore served in the Navy during World War II. On leaving the service in 1946, he became clerk to Judge Charles C. Simons, U.S. Court of Appeals, sixth circuit, at Cincinnati.

The appointee has also served as a Wayne County public administrator and as special assistant U.S. attorney in charge of litigation for the Office of Price Stabilization in Detroit.

Venison Dinner Is Enjoyed Tuesday By Ford River Lions

The Ford River Lions met Tuesday evening at the Pine Forest Club for their annual venison dinner.

The dinner was prepared by the Junior Jives 4-H group with Mrs. Ralph Nordquist as chairman and Mrs. Christ Oshe, Mrs. Ed Schroeder, and Mrs. Kermet Jorgensen as co-chairmen. The 4-H girls served the dinner.

Tom Wilkinson was program chairman of the evening and in that capacity presented this year's deerhunter, Ralph Nordquist with the deerhunter's headgear for the year. Richard Meisner was appointed next year's deerhunter and was given the weapon with which he is to slay the animal.

Howard Eldred, conservation officer, spoke on harvesting deer for the future and showed a film on the care of them and how data concerning the deer population in the Cusino Wildlife Refuge is secured.

Fred Bernhardt 4-H group representative for the county, was a guest as were also Edward Schroeder, Alton Oshe and Paul Fredericks.

The community Christmas tree will be erected Wednesday evening and helpers are urged to be present at 8. The children's Christmas party will be held Sunday afternoon at 5. Santa will bring bags of candy and nuts to the children. Carols will be sung around the tree which is to be set up in the center of Ford River village. All children of the township are welcome.

Adjust Driving To Conditions, Says Rosemurgy

"Dangerous Driving Conditions" is the subject of the statement issued today by Percy Rosemurgy, local automobile dealer, the last in a series in connection with S-D day which is being observed nationally today.

Mr. Rosemurgy's statement: "One of the most important things a smart driver does is to adjust his driving to fit conditions—particularly when they represent a special hazard. The last two weeks of December contain five sets of conditions which make them the most dangerous two weeks in the year. They are longer hours of darkness, slippery pavement, bad weather, more shoppers and more celebrations.

"Any automobile dealer knows that good headlights, properly aimed, can help you see better at night. This is doubly important when more people commute to work in the morning and afternoon when it is dark. If you have not had your lights checked recently this would be a smart time to do it. And even with perfect headlights you can't see nearly as well as you can in the daytime—so slow down at night.

"Automobile dealers also know how important good brakes are—and what their limitations are. They know that it will take you a lot longer to stop on slippery pavement than on dry pavement and many times that on snow or ice. Safe driving speed is controlled by safe stopping distance. So, when it takes longer to stop you have to drive slower to be equally safe. With special hazard ahead this would also be a good time to have your brakes checked so that in an emergency you won't skid out of control.

"Bad weather causes many other troubles. Your windshield fogs up. Your headlights bounce back in your face from fog or snow and your windshield wipers won't do as good a job in very heavy rain or snow. So, check your safety equipment that helps you see better—and slow down because you still can't see, stop or dodge as quickly.

"The last two weeks of December also bring a new host of shoppers. These pedestrians have more on their mind than just safe driving. And many motorists as well as pedestrians may have been attending celebrations and may not be as competent as normal.

"So one of the best ways to practice up on your safe driving so that you can drive as well as you know how on safe driving day is to begin to study the special hazards of this season so that you will learn to know more about when to slow down before it is too late."

Traffic Violator Sends Yule Card

GLADSTONE — A Christmas card with an odd enclosure was recently received by Justice A. T. Sohlberg of Gladstone from Terry McKee of Grand Rapids, Mich. McKee had been ticketed by State Police for driving on the wrong side of the road and straddling the center line. Enclosed in the Christmas card was the ticket summons folded and the words, "No alibi — How much?" The judge fined McKee $6 including costs.

Begin Installation Of 'Y' Traffic Light

Installation of a traffic signal at the "Y" intersection of Washington and Stephenson Avenues and Sheridan Road was started by city electric department crews this afternoon.

The installation is to be completed today and the light put on temporary warning flasher operation for a week or more. Full stop-and-go signal will begin when the light is coordinated with others on Stephenson Ave.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Send Your Cards For Patients At State Hospital

Want to help make Christmas a little more pleasant for some of the forgotten patients of the Newberry State Hospital?

Hospital officials report that there are 500 patients at the hospital who are forgotten by their friends and relatives. These men and women—children, too—would appreciate receiving your Christmas cards.

The Newberry Lions Club and social workers of the hospital will address the cards to the various patients if you will provide the cards.

Send your cards to Newberry Patients Project, Escanaba Daily Press, and the newspaper will see that they are properly forwarded to the Newberry Lions Club.

A number of cards were received at the Escanaba Press office today but many more are needed.

Put your return address in the upper left corner of the envelope containing your signed Christmas card. Leave the address space blank as this will be filled in later. Then enclose this card and envelope in another envelope addressed: Newberry Hospital Project, Escanaba Daily Press, Escanaba, Mich.

congressional committees to discuss individual programs before they are outlined in presidential messages.

Democrats appeared generally receptive to the administration proposal for a renewal of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, with presidential authority to bring about a gradual reduction in tariffs up to 15 per cent.

Sen. Johnson gave a preliminary okay to a plan to build up the armed forces reserve through a six-month training program for 17 and 18-year-olds which would make them subject to 9½ years of active reserve duty thereafter. Those who didn't elect to take this training could be drafted for two years of active duty, after which they would be subject to 6½ years of reserve service, as at present.

Seniors At Rock High School Present Play

ROCK—The seniors of Rock High School presented their class play, "Auntie's Money," at the school Saturday evening. Because of the convincing acting, many a chuckle was heard from the audience.

Wealthy, crippled and partially deaf Auntie was excellently portrayed by Helen Hallinen. She had troubles with her money and her hearing and her nephew Lance, Terry Hade, who very aptly played the part of a loving nephew, while his only love was the money he would receive from Auntie. He drew sympathy from the audience for his lovely cousin, Velveta, who was well portrayed by Patsy Lusardi as a loving niece, though she was always subjected to Auntie's wrath or Lance's sarcasm.

"Quacks" Enter Scene

Howard Aalto convincingly played the part of Velveta's lawyer fiancée, but except for his fights with Lance, he could not help Velveta because she would not let him betray Lance. Excellent acting was also done on the part of Martina Sinnave, who portrayed the simple minded, fortune telling housemaid, Berthanna.

When Roger Ramseth and Duane Vandenberg entered the second act as the two "quacks" who wanted to heal Auntie's hearing, there really was an uproar on the stage and in the audience. As two "quacks" they did very well in their acting as well as in their cure, because much to their surprise, Auntie did get her hearing back. The play was under the direction of Mrs. Arnold Sayen.

Special Numbers

Specialty numbers between acts consisted of a vocal duet by Robert Belongie and Jimmy Franklin with guitar accompaniment.

Tap dance students of Jeanette LeCaptain presented a dance number, accompanied on the piano by Miss Nancy Martonen. Students in the number were Celia Aalto, Joyce Aalto, Alice Smith, Betty Sayen and Sandra Hill. The Girl's Chorus under the direction and with accompaniment of Miss Nancy Martonen sang two selections. Members of the chorus are Diane Jacks, Gloria Franklin, Joyce Aalto, Cherie Vermote, Charmaine Gerou, Bonnie Kanerva, Verna Vercoe, Verna Norman, Lila Seppanen, Patsy Lusardi, Helen Hallinen, Lucille Lund, Beverly Lehto, Emily Lund, Nancy Saari, Alice Smith, Sandra Norden, Linnea Johnson, Judy Halmeejja, Martina Sinnave, Sharon Sayen, Eunice LeClaire, Jeanine Horgan, Patsy Vandenberg, Judy Vandenberg and Louise Englund.

Jyrkila Rites

Funeral services for Emil Jyrkila of Rock were held at the Finnish Lutheran Church in Rock Saturday, with the Rev. Amos Marin officiating. The church choir sang two hymns in Finnish and a poem was read by Mrs. Lauri Hallinen.

Palbearers were Lauri Hallinen, Tom Louman, Leo Kanerva, John Enberg, Wester Bjorn and Henry Harju.

Out-of-town people who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Heikkila, Mr. and Mrs. Waino Heikkila and Mrs. Finna Lahti of Negaunee, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harju of Roseville, Mich., Miss Elaine Jyrkila of Green Bay, Miss Nancy Harju of Marquette and Lyle Kirby of Gwinn. Burial was in the Rock cemetery.

Mrs. Ray Harju and Mrs. Arne Harju were Emil Jyrkila's daughters, not his sisters, as previously stated.

Peron To Make Divorces Legal

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Argentine deputies have approved a bill to legalize divorce in Argentina and to permit divorced persons to marry again.

President Juan D. Peron's solid majority in the House put through the measure in the early morning hours and passed it over the shouted protests of the small Radical party minority.

Its quick approval in the all-Peronista Senate is assured.

Passage of the bill is sure to be a new source of tension in the five-week-old public controversy between the Peron government and the Roman Catholic Church.

Catholic opposition to legalized divorce and remarriage of divorced persons has been one of the main causes underlying the controversy.

It has been rumored for months that Peron had prepared a divorce bill, but it was presented unexpectedly and approved almost immediately at the end of a House session that lasted 18 hours, 55 minutes.

Most of Catholic Latin America does not permit absolute divorce and remarriage. However, Mexico and Uruguay have liberal laws on the subject and many couples obtain their divorces in those countries.

The Coming Of Christ

--Adam

PICTURE
The Creation of Man, from a French manuscript. "Scenes from the Old Testament", of the 13th Century. The Pierpont Morgan Library, New York.

SCRIPTURE
"Then the Lord God formed man of the dust from the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living being." (Genesis 2:7)

God made Adams, the first man, according to his own image, and man's original stage was happy and holy. But by his disobedience to the commandments of God, Adam broke the covenant with Him by which he obtained these benefits, and man fell from his original state of grace. Thus the Old Testament describes man's condition of sin and misery. Then Christ, the Second Adams, by His life of perfect obedience, restored man to his original state. "For as by a man came death, by a man has come also the resurrection from the dead. For as in Adam all die, so in Christ shall all be made alive." (I Corinthians 15:21f.)

Next: Abraham

You Must Have Been a Beautiful Baby, Janice Maki, Sally Waak and Sharon Kamarainen.

The Lady Is a Tramp, by Betty Jane Hill, Virginia Vandenbusche and Maida Tulla.

Toot, Tootsie, Goodbye, Dorotha Lampi and Joyce Salo.

I've Got Rhythm, Bonnie Campbell.

Goofus, Sandra Hall, Alice Smith, Joyce Aalto, Celia Aalto and Betty Sayen.

Celia Aalto and Diane Linjala who are taking dancing lessons from Mrs. Edward Lawrie will also present a dance number.

The public is welcome. There is no admission charge. Lunch will be served after the program. Santa Claus will pay a visit to the hall.

Dec. 19, Legion-Auxiliary Christmas party.

Bullet Misses Rat, Sets House On Fire

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Clarence Bowman told firemen who responded to an alarm at his house:

He shot at a rat with a .22 caliber rifle.

The bullet missed the rat but struck a gas line underneath the floor.

The gas ignited, setting fire to the house.

The firemen put out the blaze before there was much damage.

Then police arrested Bowman on a charge of discharging a firearm in the city.

Radio Santa Claus
Radio Santa Claus will be open to all the small fry of the Grand Marais Youth Center Saturday, Dec. 18 with an assist from amateur radio operators W8GNK, Alfred Lundquist Jr., and W8ENX Harold Meldrum of Grand Marais. The program will be under the supervision of the youth center directors, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Carrigan. Any youngster wishing to put in a direct order to Santa should be on hand for this special opportunity.

Women's Club Party
Members of the Grand Marais Women's Club held their annual Christmas pot luck supper at the high school. A Christmas tree decorated by chairwomen Mrs. Gladys Coulson and Mrs. Lila McDonald and Hazel Rathka gave a definite Christmas spirit. Gifts were exchanged and Mrs. Janice Hendricks gave a reading on the different Christmas customs in the various countries of the world. Mrs. Beatrice Mixon played for group carol singing.

Church Programs
Catholic
Santa Claus will visit the children of the Holy Rosary Parish next Sunday afternoon in the basement of the Church. Mr. and Mrs. Claude McLean who are in charge of the program will be on hand to give a special welcome to Santa when he arrives with his usual bag of candy for all of the children. Midnight Mass will be celebrated as usual by the Rev. George Pernaski with congregational singing of carols preceding the Mass. Mass on Christmas Day will be at 9 a. m.

California Girl, 20, Dies After Attack; Clothing Set Afire
SAN BRUNO, Calif. — An unidentified woman, about 20 years old, died Monday night after she had been beaten and raped, her throat slashed and her gasoline soaked body set afire on a lonely suburban road.
Police discovered her, half nude and her clothes afire, in an eucalyptus grove.
Thirty minutes later she died at a hospital.
Coroner Paul Jensen said the woman's throat had been cut and she had been raped.

Comptroller General Recess Appointment Made By Eisenhower
WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower Tuesday gave Joseph Campbell a recess appointment as comptroller general of the United States.
The President first sent the nomination of Campbell to the session of the Senate which convened Nov. 8, but no action was taken on it because a controversy arose over the appointment.
Campbell was a member of the Atomic Energy Commission at the time Eisenhower nominated him. He is an accountant by profession and is now on leave as treasurer of Columbia University where Eisenhower formerly was president.
Objections to his appointment during the special Senate session included contentions that he, as a member of AEC, favored the controversial Dixon-Yates contract. The comptroller general's post has been vacant since Lindsay Warren resigned last spring.

Perkins 4-H Clubs Held Party Friday

PERKINS—Members of the Perkins boys and girls 4-H clubs and their guests and leaders met at the school for the club's Christmas party.

About seventy young people and 10 adults were present. Fred Bernhardt, Delta County 4-H club agent and Miss Ingrid Tervonen, both of Escanaba, were present and led square dancing. A gift exchange was held, and the young people sang Christmas carols.

A pot-luck lunch was served buffet style in the school kitchen and dining room. The 4-H members did all the planning and decorating for the party. The school auditorium was decorated with balsam boughs, bells and a very large decorated and lighted Christmas tree. The buffet table was centered with red and green crepe paper runners, upon which were placed white and green candles and smaller candles in shapes of Santa, trees, deer, angels and snowmen. In the dining room, the tables were each centered with a white birch Yule log with candles and surrounded with balsam boughs. On one corner of the buffet table was a snow-covered mirror upon which was set the Nativity scene.

Bethany Ladies' Aid Holds Annual Party

PERKINS—Mrs. Henry Soderstrom entertained members and guests of the Bethany Lutheran Church Ladies' Aid of Perkins at her home for the group's annual Christmas party.

Several Christmas carols were sung with Mrs. Ed Hall, pianist. Mrs. Norman Aasen presented a reading, "Let's Keep Christmas."

An invitation from the Ladies' Aid of Calvary Lutheran Church of Rapid River to attend their Christmas party Dec. 15 was read and it was decided to hold no more winter meetings after the next meeting on Jan. 19 at the home of Mrs. Andy Bannister.

Tough Hawk Refuses To Die, Gets Stuffed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A taxidermist has the toughest hawk that Mrs. Helen Moxley has ever come across.

It swooped against a window of her mountaintop home Monday, trying to attack a pair of her parakeets. Stunned by the blow, the big bird fell 50 feet below. Mrs. Moxley went after it, noticed it was still alive and shot it with an air rifle. She picked it up and the hawk sank its talons into her arm. She choked it, placed it in her aviary and called the taxidermist.

When she looked again the bird was very much alive. She recanted and fed it. When the taxidermist came, she turned the live bird over to him.

Handy moved to the table. Over the milk bottle and the sugar bowl he reached for the briefcase with his left hand. He swung it toward him by the handle.

"Be careful you don't mess up prints," Helm advised him.

Handy backed toward the door, the revolver on his right hip, the briefcase dangling along his thigh. At the door he slipped the gun back under his armpit and turned the knob.

"You'll hear about this from the D. A.," he told Helm. "He's going to get tough."

"Uh-huh. But not with me."

Through the open door I saw a blue uniformed figure jump down the three steps. Handy started to turn as Ernie Watrous grabbed his arms. One of Ernie's cops appeared on Handy's left and poked a gun into Handy's ribs.

"What's this?" Handy demanded. "Take your hands off me."

"Pardon us," Ernie said cheerfully. "I forgot you're the D. A.'s office boy and I'm only the law in West Amber."

Ben Helm moved forward. His body blocked out the doorway, but I saw a piece of the briefcase and Handy's hand clinging to the handle as Helm tried to take it from him. Then Handy uttered a sharp cry and Helm straightened up with the briefcase.

The four men surged up the steps and out of my line of vision. "You sure this is the murder gun?" I heard Ernie say.

"Ballistics will prove it," Helm replied.

A car drove away, and it was quiet everywhere.

Hannah and I were still clinging to each other's hand when Ben Helm came back into the apartment. He no longer had the briefcase. He must have locked it in his car because it was certain he would not trust it with the police.

"Fingerprints," I said. "Was that why Handy had to come for it?"

"Uh-huh. These days even a housewife knows not to leave her fingerprints at the scene of a crime, but his were put on the records before he shot Larkin."

"You told us that Shad's wire wouldn't have been tapped for blackmail."

"The tap wasn't intended to get dirt on anybody but Shad. There was no court order, but there's a lot more illegal than legal wiretapping done by officials."

"That's cute," I said. "Lecturing me on the ethics of wiretapping while the upholders of law and order aren't bothered by it."

"Ethics are for laymen," He gave me an affable smile. "I can get cynical too, but I try not to let it mess up my point of view. Anyway, the killer, if it wasn't you, must have had inside knowledge that Mrs. Larkin was coming here with the records. She would not have phoned whoever she had got them from—not if she was fleeing to you. Yet he knew where to find her and the briefcase and got here at about the same time as Larkin. That's too much coincidence unless he learned the same way as Larkin did."

Hannah said: "But that by no means meant that the wiretapper was the murderer."

I pulled my hand out of hers. She hardly noticed. The records were in the proper hands and the murdered was nobody she cared about.

"Uh-huh," Helm admitted, "until this morning when Paul Flagg was eliminated as the killer and I learned that both Mr. and Mrs. Larkin had been shot by the same .38 caliber revolver. I could see only one reason why the killer would hang onto a gun so dangerous to him. It was an official gun, licensed and registered in his name, and he was responsible for it when he quit or was fired. The thing to do was sit tight, especially when somebody else was strongly suspected. It might be years before he had to turn in his gun, and by then nobody would think of checking it against the murder bullets."

"And you set a trap to bring him here with his gun," she said.

"Uh-huh. I asked aRindolph to 'Uh-huh. I asked Randolph to office that Paul Flagg had found the briefcase and was refusing to surrender it to me. I was reasonably sure that would bring the killer."

"Suppose it had been Randolph himself?"

"Then he would have had to come. Whoever it was, he had no choice. The fingerprints on the records by themselves weren't any sort of murder evidence; but when they were found he'd be asked to turn over his gun, and then he'd be in the soup. There would seem to be little risk in going after the records except that he would have to take his official gun. Even if he had a spare gun around, it would look fishy if he displayed it. He came here and found about what he expected. He had some legal standing; he wasn't overstepping authority by pulling his gun and taking the briefcase away from us. Once he got the records out of here, he'd wipe them clean, saying he'd found them that way, and turn them over to the D. A., all legal and aboveboard with no kickback."

He didn't resume speaking after he lit his pipe, which meant that he was finished. It was time for me to say my piece.

"The fingerprints on the records were evidence," I said. "You could have come in here with Ernie Watrous and taken possession of them legally and then waited for Handy."

He grinned engagingly. "But wasn't it an interesting discussion while waiting?"

American Mr. X Will Testify In Case Of Alleged British Spy

LONDON — A Mysterious American identified only as "Mr. X" will be asked to testify in the trial of a British clerk accused of spying for the Russians on Britain's anti-aircraft defenses and U. S. Navy headquarters here.

Justice Sir Malcolm Hilbery, presiding at Old Bailey, London's criminal court, said the American is "discharging important duties" and gave the impression he might be a diplomat.

A request for the appearance of Mr. X was made Monday by the accused man, John Clarence, 27. Clarence has pleaded innocent to charges of violating Britain's Official Secrets Act. His trial is set for Friday.

Hannah said: "But that by no means meant that the wiretapper was the murderer."

"Uh-huh. These days even a housewife knows not to leave her fingerprints at the scene of a crime, but his were put on the records before he shot Larkin."

ALLERGIC TO CHRISTMAS — Scott Garrison, 10, of Santa Fe N. M., holds the only Christmas tree he can have—a plastic one—as he recovers from a brush with a live evergreen at school. Scott hates the Christmas season, not because he's a stand-in for Scrooge, but because he's allergic to evergreens, Christmas candy, and the smell of mothballs which often emanates from Santa's suit. Easter is out for him, too. Easter eggs make him violently ill.

Church Services

Candy will be given to all children. The Sunday school pupils will exchange gifts. Coffee will be served in the church parlors after the program by the Sunday School mothers.

Morning services and communion will begin at 10 a. m. Sunday, Dec. 19. Christmas services will be held Christmas Day at 10 a. m.

A big part in any man's religion consists in getting along with other people.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

One of the most difficult jobs of housekeeping is to keep linoleum and asphalt tile floors waxed and gleaming. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it is no longer necessary to wax and scrub. All you do is apply Glaxo with a brush about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor. Glaxo is available at the Fair Store, Escanaba. (Adv.)

Hearing Completed On Insurance Agent Overcharging Case

LANSING — A decision is expected in about 30 days in the case of Walter A. Fiehler, Mt. Clemens insurance agent accused of overcharging in premium payments.

State Insurance Commissioner Joseph A. Navarre said his department completed a hearing on the case Monday. "I am taking a final determination under advisement for 30 days," he said.

DAILY PRESS
Escanaba, December 15, 1954 13

Fiehler was accused of overcharging in premium collections and pocketing the difference. His clients included servicemen stationed at Selfridge Air Force Base near Mt. Clemens.

Navarre said Fiehler had been ordered to repay the amounts overcharged to his clients.

It's especially hard to make both ends meet when the financial end is short.

Pretty Party Dresses In Broadcloth

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)— Even little girls who ordinarily are devotees of blue jeans and T shirts begin to think in terms of party clothes when the holidays come around.

Some party dresses should be just plain pretty and some others, to satisfy both mother and daughter, should have a touch of practicality. The frilly organdy dress makes a picture to remember. But silky broadcloth in delicate pastels looks lovely, launders beautifully, has a surface sheen.

We show (left) a jumper dress in cotton broadcloth, in the colors

French blue and poppy red. The blouse is not just a blouse: it lengthens into a petticoat that's full and frilly. This is in dimity, edged in imported lace.

Picture party dress (right) is also cotton broadcloth but this time with garlands of embroidered flowers on a background of organdy edged with lace. Both designs are by Celeste.

Rock Legion Post Begins Work On Servicemen's Album

ROCK—Members of the Rock American Legion Post 559 began actual work on a project that they have been planning on for some time at their meeting Monday at the Ewing Township Hall.

Their aim is to compile and print a Servicemen's Memorial Album of all men of World Wars I and II, also of the Korean War and anyone in service up to the time of the printing of the album. It will include pictures, dates of service, enlistment, etc., of servicemen from Maple Ridge, Ewing and Turin Townships.

Francis Trombly was appointed as chairman of the committee to mail form letters to servicemen for information.

Final arrangements were also made for the distribution of Christmas baskets to needy families which is a joint project of the Legion and the Lions at Rock each year. On the committee are Clifford Carlson, Les Larson and Lee Maki.

The next meeting will be held at the Rock Clubhouse Jan. 10. Lunch and refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Soak Those Feet While You Study

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Home to school, one class to another, up to the corner and back, gym class, dancing—a teen-ager works her feet hard in a short day. Her footwork may not be as fancy as Gene Kelly's, but it's just as hard.

Though they work hard, feet seldom get the attention they deserve because they're such uncomplaining employees. Feet may go all winter with nary an ache, pain or blister. But then suddenly summer comes and feet are supposed to blossom bare or in naked sandals. And they look like paws.

Fortunately, a teen-ager can give her feet a start toward beauty while she's doing something else—such as homework. Unlike hands, feet don't have to be free while their owner laps up textbooks.

First move is a weekly soak in hot water and soap flakes. While the "chem" is seeping into the brain, let one foot at a time soak in a small pan on the floor. While reciting formulae, give the feet a scrub with a stiff brush or a pumice stone. Get the tough growth of the heels. Push the cuticles back. Cut the nails straight across. This'll be easy after their softening soak.

Then, with the English book on your stomach, assume the telephone-call pose for a chapter or two; lie on your back on your bed with your feet resting high on the wall. While your tired feet rest, your brain will benefit from the head-down position.

Ankle Exercise
Then, lying on your stomach on your bed with your knees hanging off, give the feet some exercise while you bone up on Spanish. Rotate your feet so your ankle muscles get the kind of exercise they generally lack.

Then, with a touch of foot powder between the toes, the feet will be as fine as a left hand with a diamond.

Rock

North Rock Club

ROCK—The North Rock Home Extension club held its Christmas party at the home of Mrs. John Seppanen Monday evening. A potluck supper was served after which the members exchanged gifts. The members enjoyed the singing of Christmas carols during the latter part of the evening. Decorations were in the Christmas motif. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Toivo Salo.

Church Concert

The concert at the Lutheran Church in Rock Sunday evening was enjoyed by a large congregation. Twenty-nine members of the Negaunee Immanuel Lutheran Church sang many songs in English and the Finnish languages. Choir director was Mrs. Herman Natero. They were accompanied by Miss Joanne Harju. Solos, duets and piano solos were also part of the evening's entertainment. Lunch was served afterward in the church parlors.

Circle Holiday Meeting

The Sacred Heart Circle of St. Anne's Guild was entertained at the home of Mrs. August Larson, Sr. for its Christmas meeting. Father Malloy read a Christmas story. Everyone sang Christmas Carols and exchanged gifts. Christmas motifs decorated the rooms and the holiday theme predominated in the lunch served by the hostess.

Joint Services

The congregations of the West Rock Sunday School and the Rock Family Bible Hour will combine services during the holiday season. Warren Joles, missionary and pastor of the West Rock Group, will conduct the program. These meetings will be held at 8 p. m. instead of the usual 7:30 p. m. at the Rock Town Hall Dec. 19 and Dec. 26. The public is cordially invited to attend.

A small yule log with candles centered the lunch table, as the hostess served a Christmas lunch. The cake and salad were made in the form of a Christmas tree. All the members exchanged gifts.

Royal Neighbors Meet

The Royal Neighbors met at the home of Mrs. Emil DeBacker for their Christmas meeting with Mrs. DeBacker and Mrs. Archie Bazinet as hostesses. Games were played and gifts were exchanged by the members. The award of the evening was won by Mrs. DeBacker. A special award, a hand-

Contract Bridge

By Josephine Culbertson

ONE COMMON-SENSE RULE

Contrary to widespread opinion, there are very few "rules" in bridge that remain valid under all circumstances. But there is one, based on nothing but common sense, that always should be observed, and that is: if you have opened a minimum hand, do not rebid unless you are forced to do so by partner's response. Too many players still follow the example set by North, below:

at dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

♠ K 6 2	♥ A K 10 7 2	♦ 7 4	♣ A 5
♠ 10 8 7	♥ 9 8 3	♦ A J 9 5	♣ K 6 2
♠ 4 3	♥ 5 3	♦ 8 6	♣ J 10
♠ 2	♥ 4	♦ 7	♣ 8

The bidding:
West North East South
Pass 1♥ Pass 1NT
Pass 2♥ Pass 2NT
Pass 3NT Dble. Pass
Pass Pass
North knew, or should have known if he counted high-card points or honor-tricks, that his one-heart opening was a minimum, and consequently he had nothing further to say over South's one-trump response. True, a two-heart contract might be better, but there was certainly no assurance to that effect, and in any case North simply could not afford to rebid.

As it happened, South had a very fair holding for his negative notrump response, so he could not be blamed for rebidding over North's two hearts. If North had good reason for rebidding, game was by no means out of the question. When, however, South went to two notrump, the fat was in the fire, because East had decided to start doubling even if North passed. (He had played against that particular North before, and knew his rebids!) But North made a bad matter even worse! Doubtless emboldened by the "meek silence" of the opponent up to that point, he bid three notrump.

East's double really called for a heart lead by West, but the latter's actual choice of the club nine—a rather surprising choice—turned out very well. South won with the ace and finessed the ten of hearts. West knocked out the king of clubs, and declarer unwisely tried to clear the hearts. After that, the defenders took the rest of the tricks, collecting 1400 points!

Eskymos, Crusaders Get Set For Heavy Weekend Basketball Action

The Escanaba Eskymos and the Holy Name Crusaders are setting sights on weekend basketball games, with Coach Jim Betchek's Esky quint making its first home stand Friday night against the Ishpeming Hematites.

The Crusaders of Coach Tom St. Germain travel to Stephenson Friday night and then return home to meet Bishop Baraga of Marquette Saturday evening.

Ishpeming will be fresh from a pair of weekend victories over Munising and Calumet, Coach Clairmont Watson's Hematites, with five players back from last year's squad, looked rough in beating Calumet by a 68-40 margin Saturday night.

14 Saw Action

Fourteen Hematites poured in to the game with center Bernie Bjorne setting a 19-point scoring pace. Forward Glenn Kallala added 16. Both were members of last year's Ishpeming squad.

Other Ishpeming players who were with the squad last season are Warren Matthews, Jim Kosonen and John Kelly.

The Escanaba Eskymos also have a pair of impressive victories behind them. They clipped the Marquette Redmen on the Graveraet court by one point and then upset the veteran Iron Mountain Mountaineers 59 - 57, also in a road game. Previously the Eskymos had lost to Holy Name and Marinette.

Eskymo Starters

Betchek will stick with his regular starting lineup against Ishpeming. He will have Lawrence Sauve at center, Mike Heminger and Tom Hogan at forwards, Bill Bolm and John Dulek at guards. Front line reserves will be Ricky Erickson, Ted Anspaugh and Jim Beck.

The varsity game will begin at 8:30 with the Bee teams meeting in a preliminary at 7. Game officials will be Dewey Plough and Evan Kelly of Marquette.

St. Germain is again contemplating a revised lineup for Friday night game at Stephenson. Gary Paler, a junior, has been operating at a guard position with Jim Greenwood. Paler is the third player who has been tried at a guard spot, Bill Lancour and John Vadnais getting previous starting roles.

Remainder of the Crusader lineup will have regulars John Berrigan at center, Mike Venne and Arnold Henriksen at forwards. Berrigan leads the team in scoring with 106 points in his four games.

Powers Tops Arch Rival Hermansville By 65-56

POWERS—The Powers-Spalding Tigers defeated arch rival Hermansville 65-56 for their fourth straight victory before a capacity crowd here last night.

Coach Marv Ropel's towering front line trio of Jim Sargent, Bill Berg and Bernard Poupore provided the scoring power that broke Hermansville's back.

Poupore, a 6-1 sophomore who roves the front court on offense, poured 23 points through the nets. Berg canned 18 and Sargent chipped in 17.

Raphael Faccio, Hermansville's 6-foot senior, set the pace for the Redskins with 15 points and Lloyd LaCasse accounted for 13 in the losing battle.

John Henderson, veteran Powers guard, was ill and saw only spot action in the game. Powers took a 15-12 lead in the first period and extended it to 50-36 entering the final period.

Powers will play host to Nahma Friday night and Channing will be at Hermansville the same evening.

Kiner Asks For Cut In Salary

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three of baseball's brightest stars were signed to 1955 contracts today and one of them—former National League home run king Ralph Kiner—in an unprecedented move asked for and received a pay cut he said amounted to "about 40 per cent."

Kiner, who was bought from the Chicago Cubs by the Cleveland Indians last month, will receive about $40,000 from the American League champions next season.

The New York Yankees announced the signing of Jerry Coleman, veteran infielder, while the New York Giants got the name of third baseman Hank Thompson on the dotted line. It was estimated that Thompson signed for $20,000 and Coleman for around $16,000.

"I want my salary in the future to be determined by my performance," said Kiner, in announcing his startling decision. The Cubs reportedly paid Kiner about $60,000-$65,000 in 1954, and under baseball rules he was protected against a slash of more than 25 per cent.

Cage Powers Spotlight Heavy Program Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

High ranking college basketball teams headed by LaSalle, Illinois, Dayton and Missouri spotlight a fairly heavy court program tonight.

Undefeated Dayton (4-0) and Louisville (6-0) do battle in what may be the top tilt of the evening at Dayton. Dayton is ranked No. 5 and Louisville No. 12 in this week's AP poll.

LaSalle, No. 1, should have no trouble at LaFayette, while Miami of Ohio might cause some trouble against third rated Illinois.

Six In Row

North Carolina State, No. 4, plays at South Carolina, Arkansas invades Missouri (No. 6); Duquesne (No. 9) entertains College of Pacific at Pittsburgh; and Notre Dame (No. 20), travels to Purdue.

Tuesday night N.C. State's wolf-pack made it six straight without defeat by trouncing Clemson 112-72 in an Atlantic Coast Conference fray.

Niagara's 10th ranked Purple Eagles outlasted Cornell 71-65.

George Washington, No. 11, gained revenge over Wake Forest 84-82 as GW's Corky Devlin potted 37 points. George Washington has a 3-1 record—the only loss being to Wake Forest in the season opener, 107-86.

Wichita, tied for 17th place, kept its record unblemished (3-0) by downing Regis 80-53.

Kansas ran its home court victory string to 31 straight by downing Tulsa 73-66. Tulsa had been unbeaten in four games.

Colgate, also unbeaten in four games up to Tuesday night, was taken by Pitt 80-67, while Western Kentucky defeated Cincinnati 85-75.

Detroit won its fifth straight by defeating Buffalo 68-61, while Southern California made it 4-0 by downing the University of Hawaii for the second night in a row, 74-54.

Bobo Olson Makes Third Title Defense Against French Boxer

SAN FRANCISCO — World middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson of San Francisco makes the third defense of the crown he won 14 months ago when he meets Pierre Langlois of France over the 15-round route tonight.

The smart boys of boxing firmly believe that 26-year-old Bobo, a product of rough-and-tumble alley fighting in his native Honolulu, will turn back the challenge of the 29-year-old Frenchman.

The scrap will be televised by CBS at 9 p.m., CST.

Olson has been a busy fighter since he captured the championship from Randy Turpin of England Oct. 21, 1953, in New York.

He has had six fights since then. Included were at least four humpty dumpties, but high class were his title defenses against Kid Gavilan last April and Rocky Castellani Aug. 20.

Langlois, the cauliflower from France—his left ear could pass for a well dried apricot—may suffer

We're having a hard time figuring out the thinking of the heads of the Great Lakes Conference . . . Gladstone, because it did not have the minimum requirement of eight conference basketball games, was not eligible for consideration in the league standings . . . Yet, the other teams in the conference include the results of Gladstone's games in their own standings . . . Here's how that works . . . When Gladstone defeated Manistique last weekend the Braves did not get conference credit for the win . . . But Manistique was charged with the loss in the conference standings . . . If Gladstone can't get credit for the win, how can Manistique be charged with a conference defeat? . . . It seems illogical that Gladstone can be "half-in" the Great Lakes.

To complicate it further, if that's necessary, here's a late development . . . Gladstone has scheduled a game with Newberry for Dec. 28 and the contract has been received by school officials . . . That game boosts Gladstone's schedule up to the minimum of eight required games for conference membership in basketball . . . But conference officials have asked for a vote of members to see if the Braves should be considered as qualified for conference participation . . . Why the vote? . . . If you play eight games you're in, if not you're out, it seems to us.

The assignment of sites for regional and district basketball tournaments in the Upper Peninsula at a meeting in Escanaba Monday revealed a new type of thinking on the part of MHSAA officials . . . As fans know, the regional tournaments in past years have been passed around on a sort of unofficial rotation system within the various districts . . . This year that policy was junked and the tournaments were awarded on the basis of the best available facilities in any given district . . . That includes facilities for players and fans alike . . . Along that line, Charles Forsythe, state director of high school athletics, revealed that 14 new district tournament sites were named in Lower Michigan this year . . . They were new gyms that could accommodate the tournaments better than the sites that have been used in the past, Forsythe said.

One of the difficulties arising from the MHSAA's new policy of awarding district tournaments, of course, comes from the fact that the tournaments have been rotated in past years . . . That means that schools who were in line for their "turn" will not have that opportunity unless their facilities are regarded as the best available in the district . . . And it is well understood that the "home" team in any game has a distinct advantage in playing on its own floor.

Eagles Are Tall

Stephenson last night trounced Bark River 61-25. Last weekend the Eagles of Coach Walt Schousen lost to Menominee 51-32 after a miserable start when the Maroons grabbed a 15-1 first period lead. They also lost to Marinette Lourdes, 63-61, after leading by seven points with a minute remaining in the game.

The Eagles have six players who top the six-foot mark. They are Gerald Martin (6-0), John Schultz (6-0), Jim Strohl (6-1), Ray Hubbard (6-1), Dick LeRoy (6-4) and Tom Kakuk (6-2). Other members of the eight-man varsity squad are Bob Visuri and Harlan Gruenstern, both 5-5.

Holy Name's Saturday night foe here, Bishop Baraga, is a tall but inexperienced team. The only letterman back from last year is senior Paul Fleury. However, Fred Greene, Bob Jean and Dick Shanley, seniors, and Dean Wake-man, a junior, saw some action last year.

The game at Stephenson Friday night will begin at 9:15 (Escanaba time) with a preliminary between Bee teams at 8. Saturday night's game here will be at 8:30 with a preliminary at 7.

Stephenson Wallops Bark River By 61-25

STEPHENSON—The Stephenson Eagles scored an easy 61-25 basketball victory over the inexperienced Bark River-Harris Broncos here last night in a tune-up for their Friday night home stand against the Holy Name Crusaders.

Coach Walter Schousen's Eagles jumped off to an 11-3 lead in the first period, spread their margin to 33-8 at the half and went going away in the last two periods.

Tony Trabert Meets Swede Sven Davidson

BRISBANE, Australia (P)—Slump-fighting Tony Trabert, described as the weak spot in Uncle Sam's tennis armor, meets Sweden's aggressive Sven Davidson Thursday in the first match of the interzone Davis Cup final.

A second singles match Thursday involves U.S. champion Vic Seixas and Lennart Bergelin, both in razor sharp form.

The U. S. tennis forces are seeking another chance to wrest the big international bowl from Australia in the challenge round at Sydney, Dec. 27-29.

The doubles will be played Friday with Seixas and Trabert against Davidson and Bergelin.

The Syracuse Nationals defeated New York 91-82 Tuesday night for the third time in four outings to pull further ahead in the National Basketball Assn.'s eastern division race. The defeat also pushed the Knicks into the cellar as the Boston Celtics moved into third place by outlasting Minneapolis 115-108 in the first game of a doubleheader at New York.

The Nats overcame a 51-50 half-time deficit and went ahead for keeps early in the third period. Bill Kenville's 18 points paced the Nats' well-balanced attack while Harry Gallatin and Sweetwater Clifton were high for New York with 22 and 20 points, respectively.

Easy Ed Macauley provided the scoring impetus in the fourth period that enabled Boston to come from behind and trim the Lakers. Macauley collected 37 points, 12 in the fourth period.

Writers Pick Soo As Top U.P. Cage Team; Eskymos Rated Third

Sault Ste. Marie's consecutive night decisions over a pair of Marquette County teams have hiked Coach Eddie Olds' Blue Devils into the No. 1 spot among Upper Peninsula Class B high schools.

Consensus of U. P. sports writers participating in the weekly basketball rating poll is that the Soo, which has won three straight games from Great Lakes Conference opponents, is just a shade stronger than Iron River, victors over Ironwood, Niagara, Wis., and Norway in its three starts to date.

Gladstone's surge in the Great Lakes hiked the Braves into the No. 2 spot in Class C, just back of the all-winning Gremlins from Houghton. Except for one writer who spotted them in first, the Braves were unanimous choice for the runner-up spot.

The Escanaba Eskymos, on the basis of consecutive victories on Marquette and Iron Mountain courts, were elevated to third place in the Class B list.

Mass lost part of its grip on first place in Class D, not because of any defeats on the part of the Rockets, but because of the power being shown by Rock and Gwinn. Both of the latter two schools received one first-place vote and either second or third on other ballots.

Writers from all sections of the Peninsula were unanimous in placing Alpha ahead of all other schools in Class E. The Mastadons, Peninsula and state champs in their division, go after consecutive victory No. 12 when they play Florence, Wis., this week. They have won five in a row this year and have a six-game carryover from last season.

Moving up into "top five" in Class D is Laurium Sacred Heart, a vastly-underrated team which has lost only to Ontonagon but has defeated one school in its own class as well as two in Class C and one in Class B.

Including games of Dec. 11, here are the ratings:

Class B

Sault Ste. Marie 3-0
Iron River 3-0
Escanaba 2-2
Newberry 4-1
Menominee 2-2

Class C

Houghton 5-0
Gladstone 3-0
Ontonagon 5-0
Sault, Lorette 4-1
Crystal Falls 3-0

Class D

Mass 4-0
Rock 5-0
Gwinn 4-0
Marquette Pierce 3-0
Laurium Sacred Heart 4-1

Class E

Alpha 5-0
Trout Creek 3-0
Bergland 3-1
Hermansville 4-2
Perkins 4-1

Richards Presents New Faces Of '55

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (P)—Paul Richards' dashing revue—"new faces of '55"—will have Baltimore Oriole fans groping for a scorecard come opening day.

No Oriole knows he's still with the ball club until he reads the latest paper.

Richards' latest move was to pick up a pair of veterans, third baseman Billy Cox and lefthanded pitcher Preacher Roe, from Brooklyn Tuesday after the pair had been waived out of the National League. Although no sale price was announced it reportedly was $55,000 with two minor leaguers thrown in. Brooklyn got pitcher John Jance and second baseman Harry Schwegman for its Fort Worth farm of the Texas League.

Jance had a 13-4 record and Schwegman hit .253, both at San Antonio.

Just take a look at the men Richards has brought in during the last few weeks.

For pitching he has Harry Byrd,

Jim McDonald, Bill Miller, Don Johnson, Don Ferrarese and Roe, plus holdovers Lou Kretlow, Duane Pillette and Joe Coleman.

The New Oriole catchers are Hal Smith and Gus Triandos from the Yanks and Matt Batts from Chicago.

For the infield, Richards has such new blood as Kal Segrist, Freddy Marsh, Willie Miranda, Don Leppert (Yankee farmhand) and Cos. Of course, he may decide to use Triandos on first base instead of Eddie Waitkus, now that Dick Kryhoski has gone.

Gene Woodling, ex-Yankee regular, is the only outfielder acquired in recent deals but Richards isn't through yet.

Of the 40 Orioles who finished the 1954 season only 14 remain. Only five of the St. Louis Browns who came to Baltimore with the franchise are left on the roster. They are infielders Vern Stephens and Bobby Young, catcher Howie Moss and pitchers Kretlow and Pillette.

Hawks Open NMO Slate In Marquette Tomorrow

Escanaba's Hawks, holders of the coveted Gibson Cup, will make their first start in 1954-55 Northern Michigan Ontario Hockey League competition in Marquette tomorrow night when they tangle with the ever dangerous Sentinels.

The opening faceoff will be at 8 p. m., (EST) in the rebuilt Marquette Palestra, one of three artificial ice rinks in the Upper Peninsula. The Palestra was damaged by fire Nov. 13 but has since been repaired.

In preparing for their opening league battle, the Hawks went through a spirited three-hour workout on Marquette's artificial ice last night.

UCLA Defense Tops In Nation

NEW YORK (P)—U.C.L.A., Mississippi, Navy and Alabama were the defense teams of distinction in major-college football this fall, final N.C.A.A. Service Bureau statistics showed today.

The undefeated Uclans, who led the nation in scoring, also gave up the fewest points. They added the ground defense crown as well.

Mississippi, which will meet Navy in the Sugar Bowl on New Year's Day, won the total defense championship by displacing the Middles on the last day of the season. Mississippi wound up with 172.3 yards a game given up, Richmond 174.4 and Clemson 176.1.

Navy was knocked all the way down to ninth place by Army's nation-leading offense, even though it beat the Cadets in the season's climax game.

Alabama led in pass defense, yielding only 45.8 yards a game. U.C.L.A. gave up 40 points in winning its nine games, an average of 4.4 per game. Mississippi was second with 4.7, then Richmond with 6.0, Oklahoma 6.2, Maryland 6.7, Navy and Auburn 7.3, and Ohio State 7.6.

The Uclans gave up only 2.10 yards a crack, lowest figure in two seasons. They gave up only one touchdown on a running play. The other touchdowns against them came on four passes and a punt return.

Perry Retains Rushing Crown

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Joe Perry of the San Francisco 49ers today clinched, unofficially, the National Football League's ground-gaining title. He gained 1,049 yards in 12 games.

The season officially doesn't end until next Sunday when Cleveland plays Detroit at Cleveland, but Perry is far in front. In fact, his ball-carrying mark is the second best in league history, behind the 1,146-yard mark set by Philadelphia's Steve Van Buren.

Thus Perry retained the title he won last year with 1,018 yards. This year he carried the ball 173 times for an average 6.1 yards per try.

Second, and far behind Perry, was another 49er, John Henry Johnson, with 681 yards. Los Angeles' Paul Younger finished third with 610, barely ahead of teammate Dan Towler with 599. New York's Eddie Price was fifth with 555.

Norm Van Brocklin, Los Angeles quarterback, finished the season with the highest average gained by passing—10.14 yards. He attempted 260 passes, completed 139 for 2,637 yards and 13 touchdowns.

Otto Graham, Cleveland Browns, was second with an 8.88 yard average; Ed Bratkowski, Chicago Bears, third, 8.36; and Bobby Layne, Detroit, fourth, 7.79.

City Interested In 'Power Pool'

The Gladstone City Commission in regular session Monday evening indicated it would be interested in a "power pool" arrangement with the Alger-Delta Cooperative Electric Association, if, and when, the Alger Delta construct an electric generating plant in Escanaba.

A communication from the Alger-Delta citing benefits that would be derived by each through such an arrangement was read to the commission and commissioners indicated they would be interested in anything that would be of mutual benefit.

A request from the 8th Grade Sodality of All Saints School that action be taken to "clean up" newstands of certain type comic books harmful to the morals of youth was read. Operators of newstands will be contacted to determine if the poorer type of books are still being carried and City Attorney Clyde McGonagle was requested to investigate the possibility of an ordinance to prevent display, offering for sale or selling of objectionable books.

Public hearing on the rezoning request made by Joe Horan, Wells, regarding property on Lake Shore Drive in the Assessor's Plat was continued to the next meeting.

Payment of approximately $300,000 in bills to Pfeiffer and Schulz, Minneapolis; Power Service, Minneapolis; Cherno and Co., Ironwood; the Elliott Corp., Inc., Iron Mountain, was approved by the commission.

World Briefs

TOKYO (AP)—Experts totted up the results of three recent homing pigeon races and found with dismay that 2,750 entries didn't.

Some speculated that radioactivity had jammed their directional apparatus. Others insisted the pigeons were just a gypsy breed.

LONDON (AP)—The Daily Express reported after a sampling of British home owners that 94 per cent have at least one fireplace. And 61 per cent of those are determined to keep them, smog or no smog. A recent government report said open coal fires were chiefly responsible for London's death-dealing smogs.

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, will visit Formosa the week after Christmas, Chinese Nationalist officials said. Official quarters professed no knowledge of the purpose.

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt's military tribunal cranked out 32 more sentences—including three death verdicts—against members of the Moslem Brotherhood, fanatical secret order, on charges of plotting a terrorist revolution.

BONN, Germany (AP)—The Allied high commissioners announced their usual Christmas amnesty today for Germans in Allied prisons. Those whose sentences expire shortly before or after Christmas will be released Thursday.

Parachutes Save Two At Jet Catches Fire

NORWELL, Mass. (AP)—Two Air Force men parachuted safely out of a burning jet plane Monday night seconds before it crashed and exploded in woods.

Lt. Alfred M. Yahanda, 25, Minneapolis, Minn., is credited with guiding the plane away from a residential section before he jumped from a height of 2,000 feet. Lt. Herbert W. Forman, 23, Philadelphia, the radar observer, leaped when the plane caught fire at an altitude of about 14,000 feet. Neither was injured.

WARNING!

Don't let cough from common cold hang on Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion. It goes into the bronchial system to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial membranes.

Get a large bottle of Creomulsion at your drug store. Use it all as directed. Creomulsion is guaranteed to please you or drugstore refunds money.

Liquor Controls To Be Tightened

LANSING (AP)—Tighter controls over liquor identification stamps and salesmen's liquor samples were recommended to the State Liquor Control Commission by the auditor general's office.

Aud. Gen. John B. Martin suggested that the entire present issue of liquor stamps be recalled and replaced with a new issue.

Martin said the requirement that vendors submit monthly reports of their stamp inventories is not being enforced.

"Control over the present issue of stamps has been so ineffectual for so long a time that we do not now think it possible to reestablish control," he said.

Martin suggested that the price charged vendors for their stamps be made high enough to induce them to account for all the stamps in their possession. Vendors are reimbursed after the stamps are accounted for, so would not actually lose money, he explained.

Martin previously had reported that 36,000 bottles of liquor were distributed as salesmen's samples during the past year at a loss to the state of $42,240 in the markup that would have resulted if the samples were sold through regular channels.

He recommended that all liquor for salesmen's samples and free distribution be recorded on the regular reports of merchandise received.

Cyprus Agitators Stone American Office In Athens

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—A band of 4,000 students stoned American aid offices here Tuesday in protest against U. S. refusal to support Greek claims to the British island of Cyprus. Windows were smashed. Police clubs and fire hoses finally dispersed the youths.

"Americans, we prefer obvious enemies to friends like you!" declared one sign held aloft by the shouting demonstrators. Britain and the United States alike were targets of other slogans.

Police charges backed by jets of water eventually broke up the throng after traffic in the heart of Athens had been stalled nearly two hours. A last stand was made by several hundred diehards around Athens University, several blocks from the aid building, which houses the U. S. military missions, the U. S. consulate and other agencies. The student rear guard retreated after peppering police and firemen with oranges plucked from trees on the university campus.

Sixty-five persons, including some policemen, were injured sufficiently to require first aid. A first aid station spokesman said seven were hospitalized in a serious condition.

Several hundred onlookers were soaked by water during the fire hose onslaughts against the demonstrators.

Crash Kills Wife

PONTIAC (AP)—Mrs. Donna McClusky, 20, of suburban Waterford township, was injured fatally Monday when a car driven by her husband, Danny, 23, collided with another at an intersection in Oakland County. McClusky was treated for minor injuries.

In Detroit RENNEL REDUCES

"I have used Rennel Concentrate and have found it to be the best reducing aid I have ever used," writes Mrs. F. E. Bilibrey, 1597 Parkview.

"With it I have lost 24 pounds and feel fine. I have tried several treatments and other reducers with no good effect. With Rennel my health has improved and my weight loss pleases me. I advise people who want to lose weight to give it a fair trial."

Make Rennel work for you. If not pleased with the very first bottle return it to the manufacturer for your money back. Priced at $1.40.
